Dallesport appears on the The Dalles South U.S. Geological Survey Map.

The unincorporated community of Dallesport is located on the Dallesport Peninsula in south-central Klickitat County. Dallesport is located on the bluffs of the Columbia River. The area has views of Mt. Hood to the South, and Mt. Adams to the East. Dallesport is located in the east end of the Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area.

Dallesport, once called Rockport, used to be the county seat but now the county seat is located in Goldendale, about 25 miles north.

Also located nearby is The Dalles / Columbia Gorge Regional Municipal Airport, owned by the City of The Dalles but located in Klickitat County. The airport is publicly owned, and available for public use operating flying services, including aircraft rentals, repair service, scenic flights, and FAA certified flight instructor flying lessons. The airport has a small restaurant.
